Legend: B.C. dates at top of timeline are approximate. Note that 931BC marks the division of the Kingdom into Southern Tribes (Judah and Benjamin) and Ten Northern Tribes. To avoid confusion be aware that after the division of the Kingdom in 931BC, the Southern Kingdom is most often designated in Scripture as "Judah" and the Northern Kingdom as "Israel." Finally, note that 1 Chronicles 1-9 is not identified on the timeline because these chapters are records of genealogy.

The following notes are modified from ESV notes to include the related Scriptures.

David's growing reputation fueled Saul's jealousy which soon flamed into a desire to murder David (1Sa 19:9-10).

- (1) David fled from Saul in Gibeah (1Sa 19:9-10) and then from his home (1Sa 19:11-17)
- (2) After Saul tried unsuccessfully to kill him in his home, he fled to Samuel at Naioth in Ramah (1Sa 19:18)
- (3), Saul sought David in Naioth of Ramah, but the Spirit saved him (1Sa 19:19-24), and he fled back to meet Jonathan in Gibeah where Jonathan sent an "arrow-gram" warning David of Saul's determination to kill him (1Sa 20:1-42)
- (4). David then fled to Ahimelech the priest at Nob where he collected food and Goliath's sword. (1Sa 21:1-9)
- (5), David briefly sought refuge in the Philistine city of Gath (1Sa 21:10-15)
- (6) David then escaped to set up headquarters at the cave of Adullam where his army swelled to 400 men. (1Sa 22:1-2)
- (7), In order to protect his parents from harm, David left them in the care of the king of Moab at Mizpah (1Sa 22:3-4)
- (8) and went to live in "the stronghold", the cave of Adullam (1Sa 22:1, 4)
- (9). Prophet Gad warns David and he went to the forest of Hereth (1Sa 22:5)
- (10) and then left to rescue nearby Keilah from some Philistine raiding parties. (1Sa 23:1-5)
- (11) When David heard that Saul was coming to Keilah, he and his 600 men fled Keilah. (1Sa 23:9-13) David relocated to the wilderness of Ziph (1Sa 23:14)
- (12) After the men of Ziph betrayed David to Saul (1Sa 23:19-20), David and his men went to live in the wilderness of Maon (1Sa 23:24-25) and narrowly escaped capture there by Saul (1Sa 23:26-28)
- (13) . Fleeing the strongholds of Engedi (1Sa 23:29) David again evaded capture by Saul and refused an opportunity to take Saul's life. (1Sa 24:1-22)
- (14) After Samuel's death (1Sa 25:1) David went to the wilderness of Paran (1Sa 25:1)
- (15). While he was there, David was again betrayed to Saul by the men of Ziph and refused another opportunity to take Saul's life. (1Sa 26:1-25)
- (16) Finally, David and his men sought refuge with Achish, the king of Gath (1Sa 27:1-12)

betrayers betray David again! (see 1Sa 23:19-23+). This is a sad commentary on the Ziphites who David had delivered from the Philistines as it represents the second time they essentially "snitched" on David who was a member of the same tribe (Judah).

Warren Wiersbe - Like Nabal, the Ziphites were related to Caleb (1 Chron. 2:42), but being members of the tribe of Judah, they should have been loyal to David. Hoping to gain the king's approval, for a second time they betrayed David to Saul (1Sa 23:19ff; see Ps. 54) (Be successful 1 Samuel)

SAUL ON THE MANHUNT AGAIN

So Saul arose - So much for Saul's tears in 1 Samuel 24:16+! They were not tears of repentance but tears of remorse. Paul described this genre of "false repentance" associated with worldly sorrow in contrast to genuine repentance associated with godly sorrow...

....And not only by his coming, but also by the comfort with which he was comforted in you, as he reported to us your longing, your mourning, your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced even more. 8 For though I caused you sorrow by my letter, I do not regret it; though I did regret it—for I see that that letter caused you sorrow, though only for a while— 9 I now rejoice, not that you were made sorrowful, but that you were made sorrowful to the point of repentance; for you were made sorrowful according to the will of God, so that you might not suffer loss in anything through us. 10 For the sorrow that is according to the will of God produces a repentance without regret, leading to salvation, BUT (HERE IS THE STRIKING CONTRAST) the sorrow of the world produces death. 11 For behold what earnestness this very thing, this godly sorrow, has produced in you: what vindication of yourselves, what indignation, what fear, what longing, what zeal, what avenging of wrong! In everything you demonstrated yourselves to be innocent in the matter. (2Cor 7:7-11+)

He again brings his 3000 "crack troops" (as in 1Sa 24:2) so that he outnumbers David's men.

Arthur W. Pink points out, "The action of Saul here provides a solemn illustration of a well-known principle. SAUL CAMPS AT HACHILAH

Saul camped in the hill of Hachilah, which is before Jeshimon (see map), beside the road, and David was staying in the wilderness (midbār; Lxx - eremos) - This sets the stage geographically for the unusual confrontation in chapter 26.

When he saw ("he realized") that Saul came after him into the wilderness (midbār; Lxx - eremos) - Perhaps David was hoping that Saul's tears in 1 Samuel 24:16+ were genuine, but he soon learned that Saul was pursuing him again. Saul was close with 3000 troops, a "strong enemy" force, but David was safe for the Lord protected him, David attesting...

He delivered me from my strong enemy,
And from those who hated me, for they were too mighty for me.
-- Ps 18:17

HACHILAH - [see map above] means obscurity, dark or the darksome hill. It is one of the peaks of the long ridge of el-Kolah, running out of the Ziph plateau, "on the south of Jeshimon" (i.e., of the "waste"), the district to which one looks down from the plateau of Ziph (1 Sam. 23:19). After his reconciliation with Saul at Engedi (24:1-8), David returned to Hachilah, where he had fixed his quarters. The Ziphites treacherously informed Saul of this, and he immediately (26:1-4) renewed his pursuit of David, and "pitched in the hill of Hachilah." David and his nephew Abishai stole at night into the midst of Saul's camp, when they were all asleep, and noiselessly removed the royal spear and the cruse from the side of the king, and then, crossing the intervening valley to the height on the other side, David cried to the people, and thus awoke the sleepers. He then addressed Saul, who recognized his voice, and expostulated with him. Saul professed to be penitent; but David could not put confidence in him, and he now sought refuge at Ziklag. David and Saul never afterwards met. (1Sa 26:13-25).

1 Samuel 26:4 David sent out spies, and he knew that Saul was definitely coming.

LXE 1 Samuel 26:4 And David sent spies, and ascertained that Saul was come prepared out of Keila.

KJV 1 Samuel 26:4 David therefore sent out spies, and understood that Saul was come in very deed.

NET 1 Samuel 26:4 David sent scouts and verified that Saul had indeed arrived.

CSB 1 Samuel 26:4 So David sent out spies and knew for certain that Saul had come.

NJB 1 Samuel 26:4 Accordingly, David sent out spies and learned that Saul had indeed arrived.

YLT 1 Samuel 26:4 and David sendeth spies, and knoweth that Saul hath come unto Nachon, GWN 1 Samuel 26:4 David sent spies to confirm that Saul had arrived.

BBE 1 Samuel 26:4 And so David sent out watchers, and got word from them that Saul was certainly coming.

DAVID SENDS SPIES TO MONITOR SAUL

David sent out spies, and he knew that Saul was definitely coming- Hebrew = "and David sent scouts and he knew that Saul had certainly come." There is "intel" from above and "intel" on earth. I am sure David prayed to God for protection, but he was a wise commander and gathered intel on Saul. His spies reported that Saul was on the move and was camped at Hachilah.

1 Samuel 24 and 1 Samuel 27 are distinct, different encounters although some writers think they are related...

SAUL SLEEPING ENCIRCLED BY HIS MEN

David then arose and came to the place where Saul had camped - Presumably David's men are some distance away from Saul but David rose himself to go on this secret mission. Why did David go himself when he could have sent one of his men? As the scene unfolds we see that God had supernaturally caused Saul and his soldiers to sleep sound so that David would not be detected. Therefore, it would seem reasonable to conclude that the reason David went to Saul's camp was because the Spirit of God was leading him.

And David saw the place where Saul lay, and Abner the son of Ner, the commander of his army - Recall Abner was described in 1Sa 14:50 as the captain of the Saul's army and the son of Ner, Saul's uncle (a touch of nepotism). In their last meeting Saul "accidentally" came into the cave and in contact with David, but now David is actively seeking contact with Saul.

and Saul was lying in the circle of the camp, and the people were camped around him - KJV = "Saul lay in the trench, and the people pitched round about him." b= "Now Saul was lying in the entrenchment." Saul was clearly well-protected by his soldiers around him. However, given that God was leading David, Saul's protection was useless to prevent David's approach.

TSK Note on "lying in the circle (trench)" - trench: or, midst of his carriages, 1Sa 17:20 The word {maugal} never signifies a ditch or rampart, but a chariot or wagon way. Nor does it seem to denote a ring of carriages, as Buxtorf and others interpret the word; for it is not probable that Saul would encumber his army with baggage in so rapid a pursuit, nor that so mountainous a country was practicable for wagons. It appears simply to mean here, the circular encampment (from {agal,} "round") which these troops formed, in the midst of which, as being the place of honour, Saul reposed. An Arab camp, D'Arvieux informs us, is always circular, when the disposition of the ground will permit, the prince being in the middle, and the troops at a respectful distance around him. Add to which, their lances are fixed near them in the ground all the day long, ready for action.

Abner - [EBD] means father of light; i.e., "enlightening", the son of Ner and uncle of Saul. He was commander-in-chief of Saul's army (1 Sam. 14:50; 17:55; 20:25). He first introduced David to the court of Saul after the victory over Goliath (1 Sam. 17:57). After the death of Saul, David was made king over Judah, and reigned in Hebron. Among the other tribes there was a feeling of hostility to Judah; and Abner, at the head of Ephraim, fostered this hostility in the interest of the house of Saul, whose son Ish-bosheth he caused to be proclaimed king (2 Sam. 2:8). A state of war existed between these two kings. A battle fatal to Abner, who was the leader of Ish-boseth's army, was fought with David's army under Joab at Gibeon (2 Sam. 2:12). Abner, escaping from the field, was overtaken by Asahel, who was "light of foot as a wild roe," the brother of Joab and Abishai, whom he thrust through with a back stroke of his spear (2 Sam. 2: 18-32).

Being rebuked by Ish-bosheth for the impropriety of taking to wife Rizpah, who had been a concubine of King Saul, he found an excuse for going over to the side of David, whom he now professed to regard as anointed by the Lord to reign over all Israel. David received him favourably, and promised that he would have command of the armies. At this time Joab was absent from Hebron, but on his return he found what had happened. Abner had just left the city; but Joab by a stratagem recalled him, and meeting him at the gate of the city on his return, thrust him through with his sword (2 Sam. 3:27, 31-39; 4:12. Comp. 1 Kings 2:5, 32). David lamented in pathetic words the death of Abner, "Know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel?" (2 Sam. 3:33-38.)

DAVID LOOKS FOR VOLUNTEERS IN DANGEROUS MISSION

Then David said to Ahimelech the Hittite and to Abishai the son of Zeruiah, Joab's brother, saying, "Who will go down with me to Saul in the camp?" And Abishai said, "I will go down with you."- Only one man agreed to go with David, the son of David's sister! Only one had the courage. It is notable that there was another Hittite in David's service named Uriah whose courage prevented David's attempt to cover his sin (2Sa 11:6-7; 2Sa 23:39). David has yet to explain the purpose of his secret mission but it is clearly dangerous mission in the middle of 3000 crack troops!

Abishai - means father of (i.e., "desirous of") a gift, the eldest son of Zeruiah, David's sister. He was the brother of Joab and Asahel (2 Sam. 2:18; 1 Chr. 2:16). Abishai was the only one who accompanied David when he went to the camp of Saul and took the spear and the cruse of water from Saul's bolster (1 Sam. 26:5-12). He had the command of one of the three divisions of David's army at the battle with Absalom (2 Sam. 18:2,5,12). He slew the Philistine giant Ishbi-benob, who threatened David's life (2 Sam. 21:15-17). He was the chief of the second rank of the three "mighties" (2 Sam. 23:18, 19; 1 Chr. 11:20,21); and on one occasion withstood 300 men, and slew them with his own spear (2 Sam. 23:18). Abishai is the name of the Semitic chief who offers gifts to the lord of Beni-Hassan. Abishai, Asahel, and Joab were sons of David's sister Zeruiah (1Ch 2:16) and nephews of David. Saul's captain Abner killed Asahel, and Joab and Abishai chased him and killed him, much to David's sorrow (2 Sam. 2-3). Abishai became one of David's best military leaders and saved David's life when he was attacked by a giant (2 Sam. 21:15-17).

Henry Blackaby - 1 Samuel 26:7–11

Opportunities aren't always what they appear to be. Don't be too quick to assume an opportunity is from God just because it's in front of you. Christians talk a lot about God opening doors, and indeed he does. But we need to be discerning because not every open door is from God. David's experience is a case in point. King Saul had made his life miserable for years. David's days were spent on the run; his nights, hiding in caves. And all the while, David had to accept the fact that he, not Saul, was supposed to be the king.

Then it came! An incredible opportunity that would solve all David's problems. There was Saul, asleep and defenseless at David's feet! David's friend immediately assumed this chance must be from God. Who would ever blame David for killing Saul? His friend even offered to do the job for him. But David knew God better than that. He understood that God would take care of Saul himself, in his own time. David was a warrior; he had taken many lives before. But this was different. Even though Saul had been his enemy, David realized that God had called Saul and that God would deal with Saul in his own way. So David spared Saul's life. This would not be the last time he would do so. Ultimately, David did become king, and Saul did get what he deserved, but it wasn't because David took matters into his own hands.

We, too, must distinguish between temptation and opportunity. What seems to make perfect sense to us may be totally contrary to God's will. How can we know the difference? We must learn to know God's heart as David did, and God will give us the ability to discern the difference. (Borrow The Experience)

Abishai Ready to Strike

ABISHAI EAGER TO ASSASSINATE SAUL

Then Abishai said to David, "Today God has delivered your enemy into your hand- Abishai repeats the humanistic logic of David's men in 1Sa 24:4 interpreting their ability to approach Saul as a clear sign that God had again delivered Saul into David's hand. Human logic can be cloaked in theological garb! In a sense he was correct, for unless the LORD had put the soldiers soundly asleep, they never could have approached Saul. But opportunities need to be interpreted in the context of God's will and clearly it was not in God's will that His anointed by killed this night!

Abishai seems ever-ready to take immediate action against David's enemies. He made this same proposal when Shimei cursed David as David fled from Jerusalem during the revolt of Absalom (2 Samuel 16:9).

Brian Bell - It would have been easy to argue that David had been wrong in the cave & that God was giving him a second chance to kill Saul. But David's decision was based on principle & not circumstances (See Wiersbe). The principle emerged from 1Sa 25:39 that it was the LORD'S job (cf 1Sa 26:10, 13)

Abishi was a brave man;
but brave men are not always wise.

-- Brian Bell

now therefore, please let me strike him with the spear to the ground with one stroke, and I will not strike him the second time - NET = "Now let me drive the spear right through him into the ground with one swift jab! A second jab won't be necessary!" This time Abishai does not even tell David to kill Saul, for he likely knows what David's reply will be. So he says he will do the "dirty work" and that way David could keep his hands clean! His hands might have been clean externally, but his heart would have been unclean internally! Abishai goes on to emphasize that he won't need to strike a second time, for his first blow would kill Saul. In so doing, Saul would not know what hit him, would die immediately, and would not suffer. Abishai assures David it would be a merciful killing.

Guzik comments that " Abishai also weaves into the matter an element of poetic justice: the spear used to kill Saul would be the king's own spear, stuck in the ground by his head. The spear that was thrown at David in attempted murder before (1Sa 18:10-11+ and 1Sa 19:9-10+) would now be used as the instrument of the LORD's righteous judgment. It all might have seemed to be perfectly given from the hand of God.

NET NOTE on spear - Here "the spear" almost certainly refers to Saul's own spear, which according to the previous verse was stuck into the ground beside him as he slept. This is reflected in a number of English versions: TEV, CEV "his own spear"; NLT "that spear." Cf. NIV, NCV "my spear," in which case Abishai refers to his own spear rather than Saul's, but this is unlikely since (1) Abishai would probably not have carried a spear along since such a weapon would be unwieldy when sneaking into the enemy camp; and (2) this would not explain the mention of Saul's own spear stuck in the ground beside him in the previous verse.

DAVID'S REBUTTAL TO NOT TOUCH LORD'S ANOINTED

But David said to Abishai, "Do not destroy him, for who can stretch out his hand against the LORD'S anointed (mashiach ;Lxx = Christos) and be without guilt (naqah - to be clean, acquitted)?" - David says that Abishai will be guilty of going against God's will as He was the One Who anointed Saul and it was only for Him to remove Saul. David is steadfast in his understanding of the sanctity of the LORD'S anointed, for he himself had been anointed by Samuel (1Sa 16:6+). Note the contrast in Abishai who saw Saul as the enemy (1Sa 26:8) and David saw him as the LORD'S anointed! This contrast demonstrates the difference of a man (Abishai) after a man's heart and David who was in process of becoming a man after God's own heart!

Anointed (mashiach ;Lxx = Christos is a keyword occurring 4 times chapter 26 - 1Sa 26:9; 1Sa 26:11; 1Sa 26:16; 1Sa 26:23;

Robert Vannoy on LORD'S anointed - See 1Sa 24:10; 26:9, 11, 16, 23; 2 Sa 1:14, 16. Because Saul's royal office carried divine sanction by virtue of his anointing (see note on 9:16), David is determined not to wrest the kingship from Saul but to leave its disposition to the Lord who gave it (1Sa 24:12, 15; 26:10). (Borrow NIV Study Bible)

Guzik - It wasn't that David thought Saul was right. David knew more than anyone that Saul was deeply in sin. But David knew that even a sinning Saul was still the anointed king over Israel (1 Samuel 10:1). That would only change when God changed it. We might think that David had a more righteous reason than ever to kill Saul. Now, Saul went back on a previous promise to leave David alone. In David's position many would say, "I showed love and let him off once before. I'm full of love, but I'm not stupid. Saul had his chance and he blew it."

Cyril Barber points out, "In this respect we have a great deal to learn from David. It is hard for us to wait for God's appointed time. We want everything now, and so we engage in compromises and shortcuts, make rash purchases, rush into marriage, make unwise investments, neglect the real things of life for the trivial, and spend the mature years of our lives regretting our impatience and indiscretion. Patience is one of the first lessons we learn in God's school. To prevent discouragement, which often accompanies delay, from having a negative effect on us, we need to have confidence in God's all wise providence. In this respect the life of David is a singularly fitting commentary on passages of Scripture such as Proverbs 3:5, 6 'Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not unto your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him and He will direct your path,' and Romans 8:28, 'Now we know that God is working all things together for good to them that love God and to those who are called according to His purpose.' God was watching over David."

Anointed (04899) mashiach/masiyah from mashach = to smear, anoint) is Hebrew word that in almost all OT uses is found in a compound phrase. It is a masculine noun which can function as an adjective (as in Lev 4:3,5, 16) which means "anointed." This Hebrew word is used several times to prophetically picture the Messiah, the Christ (1Sa 2:10, 35, Da 9:25-26). In the OT, priests, prophets and kings were anointed and all these offices were fulfilled in "the Mashiach," the Messiah.

Swanson - anointed one, i.e., a person having sacred oil poured ceremonially on one's head, and so become a person with special authority and function, with the implication of one having the choice and approval of God.

Lxx translates mashiach in this verse (and most of the 38 uses in the OT) with the adjective Christos which describes one who has been anointed, symbolizing appointment to a task; as a title for Jesus, designating him as the Messiah sent from God (Jn 1:41, Jn 4:25 Greek = [messias], Ro 6:4). BDAG - Christos = "fulfiller of Israelite expectation of a deliverer, the Anointed One, the Messiah, the Christ."

QUESTION - What is the anointing? What does it mean to be anointed? Play the associated video on the anointing

ANSWER - In the Bible, anointing with oil is performed in religious ceremonies and used for grooming (Ruth 3:3; Matthew 6:17), refreshment (Luke 7:46), medicinal treatments (Luke 10:34), and burial traditions (Mark 16:1).

Ceremonial anointing in the Old Testament was a physical act involving the smearing, rubbing, or pouring of sacred oil on someone's head (or on an object) as an outward symbol that God had chosen and set apart the person (or object) for a specific holy purpose.

The Hebrew term masah/maschah (See also the noun mashiach) meant "to anoint or smear with oil." The oil used for religious anointing was carefully blended with fine spices according to a specific formula prescribed by the Lord (Exodus 30:22–32). Using this oil for any other purpose was a serious offense carrying the penalty of being "cut off" from the community (Exodus 30:33).

Kings, priests, and prophets were anointed outwardly with oil to symbolize a more profound spiritual reality—that God's presence was with them and His favor was upon them (Psalm 20:6; 28:8). While David was still a young shepherd, God told Samuel to anoint him to become king over Israel (1Sa 16:3). From that day forward, the Spirit of the Lord rested powerfully upon David's life (1Sa 16:13; Ps 89:20).

Centuries before David's time, the Lord had instructed Moses to consecrate Aaron and his sons to serve as priests (Exodus 28:41; 30:30; Leviticus 8:30; 10:7). God authenticated their priestly ministry with the fiery glory of His presence that consumed their offerings. Holy items, including the tabernacle itself, were also set apart or consecrated by anointing for use in worship and sacrificial ceremonies (Genesis 28:18; Exodus 30:26–29; 40:9–11).

The Bible contains a literal reference to a prophet's anointing when the Lord commanded Elijah to anoint Elisha as the prophet to succeed him (1 Kings 19:16). It also includes metaphorical references to anointing to indicate that prophets were empowered and protected by the Spirit of the Lord to perform their calling (1Ch 16:22; Ps 105:15).

Anointing the head with oil was also an ancient custom of hospitality shown to honored guests. In Psalm 23:5, King David pictures himself as an esteemed guest at the Lord's table. This practice of anointing a dinner guest with oil reappears in the gospels (Luke 7:46; Mark 14:3–9; John 12:3).

In the New Testament, Jesus Christ reveals Himself as our anointed King, Priest, and Prophet. He is God's Holy and chosen Son, the Messiah. In fact, Messiah, which literally means "anointed one," is derived from the Hebrew word for "anointed." Christ (Gr. Christos) means "the anointed one."

Jesus declared at the launch of His ministry, "The Spirit of the Lord is on me, because he has anointed me to proclaim good news to the poor . . . to proclaim freedom for the prisoners and recovery of sight for the blind, to set the oppressed free" (Luke 4:18; cf. Isaiah 61:1). Jesus Christ fulfilled Old Testament prophecy as the Anointed One, the chosen Messiah (Luke 4:21). He proved His anointing through the miracles He performed and the life He sacrificed as Savior of the world (Acts 10:38).

There is also a sense in which Christians today are anointed. Through Jesus Christ, believers receive "an anointing from the Holy One" (1 John 2:20). This anointing is not expressed in an outward ceremony but through sharing in the gift of the Holy Spirit (Romans 8:11). At the moment of salvation, believers are indwelt by the Holy Spirit and joined to Christ, the Anointed One. As a result, we partake of His anointing (2 Corinthians 1:21–22). According to one scholar, this anointing "expresses the sanctifying influences of the Holy Spirit upon Christians who are priests and kings unto God" (Smith, W., "Anointing," Smith's Bible Dictionary, revised ed., Thomas Nelson, 2004).'

The New Testament also associates anointing oil with healing and prayer. When Jesus sent out the disciples to preach the gospel, "they cast out many demons and healed many sick people, anointing them with olive oil" (Mark 6:13NLT). James instructs believers to "call the elders of the church to pray over them" when they are sick "and anoint them with oil in the name of the Lord" for healing (James 5:14).

Those in Charismatic religious circles speak of "the anointing" as something Christians can and should be seeking. It is common for them to speak of "anointed" preachers, sermons, ministries, songs, etc., and to advise others to 'unlock their anointing' or "walk in the anointing." The idea is that the anointing is an outpouring of God's power to accomplish a task through the anointed one. Charismatics claim there are corporate anointings as well as various types of individual anointings: the five-fold anointing; the apostolic anointing; and, for women, the Ruth anointing, the Deborah anointing, the Anna anointing, etc. Some even speak of a “Davidic anointing” upon musical instruments—“anointed” instruments are played by God Himself to drive away demons and take worship to a higher level than ever before. Special anointings are said to allow a person to use his spiritual gift to a “higher degree.” Charismatics say that special anointings are received by “releasing one’s faith.”

Much of the Charismatic teaching on the anointing goes beyond what Scripture says In their hunger for signs and wonders, many Charismatics seek new and ever more titillating experiences, and that requires more outpourings, more spiritual baptisms, and more anointings. But the Bible points to one anointing of the Spirit, just as it points to one baptism: “As for you, the anointing you received from him remains in you” (1 John 2:27; see also 2 Timothy 1:14). This same passage also refutes another misconception, viz., that Satan can somehow “steal” a believer’s anointing. We don’t need to worry about losing the anointing we received, because Scripture says it remains.

Another aberrant teaching concerning the anointing of the Spirit is the “Mimshach anointing.” Mimshach is a Hebrew word related to mashach (“anoint”) and found only in Ezekiel 28:14, where the anointing is said to “cover” (NKJV) or “cover and protect” (AMP). According to some, the Mimshach anointing (which was bestowed on Lucifer before his fall) is available now to believers. Receiving this anointing will cause everything one touches—to increase or expand, and the anointed one will experience greater levels of success, material gain, health, and power.

Rather than chase after a new anointing, believers should remember they already have the gift of the Holy Spirit. The Spirit is not given in part, He does not come in portions or doses, and He is not taken away. We have the promise that “his divine power has given us everything we need for a godly life through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness” (2 Peter 1:3). DAVID CONFIDENT THAT VENGEANCE BELONGS TO THE LORD

David also said, "As the LORD lives ("by the living LORD" "I solemnly swear"), surely the LORD will strike him, or his day will come that he dies, or he will go down into battle and perish (be swept away) - David confidence in Yahweh's avenging him would have been undergirded by the fact that he had just experienced God take revenge on Nabal (1Sa 25:38) David also knows he will be king and so he knows that God will remove Saul by (1) directly taking his life, (2) allowing him to die a natural death or (3) allowing him to die in battle, which is what occurred in 1Sa 31:6+. Note that in the 3 options David mentions, there is no positive outcome. David knows God will bring about His perfect justice one way or another. So once again David shows us the actions of a man after God's own heart and in so doing gives us another OT illustration of Ro 12:19+ "Never take your own revenge, beloved, but leave room (aorist imperative see our need to depend on the Holy Spirit to obey) for the wrath of God, for it is written, "VENGEANCE IS MINE, I WILL REPAY," says the Lord." "If vengeance belongs to God, it does not belong to us, so we are to love our enemies and never repay evil with evil." (Guzik)

Bob Roe - Abishai uttered almost the exact words that were mouthed to David once before. He said "No" to them then, so when the temptation came again, the same words trigger a "No" again. Without the flesh ever being changed, David began to build a path toward righteousness. We kid ourselves when we think our flesh will change. It will never get better. Only our choices can get better. What we do with the flesh is what is going to change. David made a stand against the flesh in that cave, and he became strong in the faith in that cave. Now God deliberately has Abishai, without his knowing it (I think), mouth exactly those same words. What hits David, "Oh, No, I've been this route before, and the Holy Spirit stuck me with the spear of guilt. I don't want any part of this." David resists and says, "Who could do this without guilt." David now begins to look at things from God's perspective. He sees that God himself will do the job that he would love to do. (1 Samuel 26 Wilderness of Ziph, David Spares Saul Again)

Steven Cole - DAVID LEARNED TO WAIT UPON THE LORD FOR HIS TIMING. In a word, he learned endurance. Note 1 Sam. 26:10-11. David said this after this thing had been going on for years! He was running for his life and living in caves, while Saul lived in the luxury of the palace. Perhaps it was during this time that David wrote Ps. 62:5, "My soul, wait in silence for God only, for my hope is from Him." David was learning to persevere. Anyone who serves the Lord must learn to wait upon the Lord--to endure. The Christian life is not a 100-yard dash. It's a marathon. A marathon is never judged by how fast the runners spring from the starting blocks. It is always determined by the long haul.

It's exciting to be anointed as king when you're a teenager. It's thrilling to defeat Goliath and to be famous and popular as a young man. But excitement and thrills are not enough to sustain a man who must face the pressures of running the government and defending the kingdom day in and day out for 40 years. That takes a man who knows endurance through waiting upon the Lord. It's exciting and fresh to begin to serve the Lord in some new ministry. It's thrilling to see God using you and to hear the acclaim of people. But excitement and thrills are not enough to sustain you in the pressures of ministry for Christ over a lifetime. To be running strong at the finish line, you've got to learn to wait upon the Lord. It's a required basic course in God's training school. (1 Samuel 18-26 God's Training School -- Discipleship)

DAVID ON MOUNTAIN FAR AWAY FROM SAUL

Then - Marks progression in the narrative. Presumably it is still night time.

David crossed over to the other side and stood on top of the mountain at a distance with a large area between them- David was not so foolish as to remain too close to Saul and his men lest they try to attack. Presumably there was sufficient distance that

David could make a quick escape unscathed if Saul's men did attempt to attack.

TSK Note - David, by retiring to a place of safety before he called to Abner, seems to have manifested more distrust of Saul than he had done on a former occasion. Yet he desired that Saul and all Israel should be informed of his conduct at this time. Abner and his soldiers, by neglecting to guard Saul when he slept, had exposed his life, and merited to be treated as his enemies, though he confided in them as friends; for, although their sound sleep was undoubtedly supernatural, yet there might be a neglect of placing sentinels, arising from contempt of David's small company. Saul also deemed David his enemy, though he had before spared and protected his life.

DAVID CONFRONTS ABNER'S FAILURE TO GUARD SAUL

So David said to Abner, "Are you not a man?" - Abner had asked "who are you" and David did not reveal his identity so Abner is still not sure who is speaking. David's identity does not become obvious until Saul recognizes his voice in verse 17. NLT - "Well, Abner, you're a great man, aren't you?" David taunted." The KJV has "Are you not a valiant man?" implying that he is not one! David overstepped his bounds somewhat in his comments to Abner because (1) God put the sleep hold on Abner and (2) he is taunting and mocking Saul's general, essentially an ancient form of trash talk that would come back to haunt David in the future (see Bob Roe below).

David may have directed his comments to Abner instead of Saul because Exodus 22:28 says "You shall not curse God, nor curse a ruler of your people.

And who is like you in Israel? - NJB = "Who is your equal in Israel?" This is rhetorical. David is saying another man like Abner does not exist in Israel!

Why then have you not guarded your lord the king? For one of the people came to destroy the king your lord('adon; Lxx = kurios) - David chastises Abner for being lax in guarding Saul and explains that someone came close enough to kill Saul.

1 Samuel 26:16 "This thing that you have done is not good. As the LORD lives, all of you must surely die, because you did not guard your lord, the LORD'S anointed. And now, see where the king's spear is and the jug of water that was at his head."

David Holds Spear and Jug

DAVID TAUNTS ABNER

This thing that you have done is not good - NAB = "This is no creditable service you have performed"

As the LORD lives, all of you must surely die (Heb - sons of death) - BBE = "By the living Lord, death is the right fate for you." Abner was indeed guilty and could have been disciplined for not doing his duty.

because you did not guard your lord ('adon; Lxx = kurios), the LORD'S anointed (mashiach; Lxx = Christos) - NET - "This failure on your part isn't good! As surely as the LORD lives, you people who have not protected your lord, the LORD's chosen one, are as good as dead!" David is saying they all deserved to die for not protecting the king!

And now, see where the king's spear is and the jug of water that was at his head - Presumably it is still dark so he does not necessarily hold up the spear and jug (as nicely depicted in the picture above) but tells Abner to check the place where they should be located -- he will not find them! David presents the evidence of Abner's sloppy surveillance, falling asleep and failing to keep alert for enemy assassins! It is interesting that David's accusation might be somewhat harsh and incorrect, for it was the LORD who had put Abner and the soldiers into a sound sleep.

Bob Roe has an interesting analysis of David's scathing "dressing down" of Abner - Notice David's humanness. He has just had a tremendous spiritual victory, but he cannot resist just one little jab. Now, David can not coarse talk Saul because in Exodus 20, Scripture says you are not allowed to revile God or curse the ruler of your people. However, it says nothing about cursing the General of your people. So David has a little proxy vengeance here. He goes way over on the other side of the hill and holds up the spear and the jug of water. The jug was right by Saul's head as was the spear. He takes this opportunity to taunt Abner, the man who has been harassing him. This is a very tactical error. (Abner is now commander of the king's army. David used to be commander of Saul's army. Possibly there was rivalry between them even then.) Abner is quite a general, and David causes him to lose face in front of 3,000 of his troops. Abner is an oriental. How do you think Abner is going to respond? Poor old David just can not resist this kind of thing. When David, upon Saul's death, becomes king of Judah, Abner takes the remaining son of Saul, Ishbosheth, and with the ten northern tribes sets up his own kingdom in opposition to David. He does not return to David until Ishbosheth insults him and he loses face in Israel. Only then does he deliver Israel to David. David's little indulgence here may well have kept him from becoming king of all of Israel for several years. When you have a spiritual victory, don't push your luck. The retribution of God is always there. When you disobey God you will pay for it somewhere down the line. I think this incident is one of the basic reasons Abner refused to allow the ten tribes of Israel to join with Judah under David as king. (1 Samuel 26 Wilderness of Ziph. David Spares Saul Again)

SAUL RECOGNIZED DAVID'S VOICE

Then Saul recognized David's voice and said, "Is this your voice, my son David?" - Saul is amazing and incredibly hypocritical for he again refers to David as "my son" as in the Cave Encounter in 1Sa 24:16+.

And David said, "It is my voice, my lord ('adon; Lxx = kurios) the king." - Notice again David's humble, submissive response to the man who is seeking to kill him! Note that although Saul said my son, David did not respond "My father" although he had responded that way in 1Sa 24:11+. Wiersbe explains that David's "address was only "my lord, O king." Saul's daughter Michal was no longer David's wife (1Sa 25:44+), so David was no longer son-in-law to the king. Furthermore, Saul certainly hadn't treated David like a son." As Guzik says "Since David was so right and Saul was so wrong, it would have been easy for David to project a superior attitude towards Saul, but he didn't."

DAVID QUESTIONS WHY IS HE STILL "ISRAEL'S MOST WANTED!"

He also said, "Why then is my lord ('adon; Lxx = kurios) pursuing his servant ('ebed; Lxx - doulos)?" - Notice that in this dialogue with Saul David calls Saul my lord three times (1Sa 26:17, 18, 19). Recall David addresses Saul as "my lord ('adon; Lxx = kurios) the king," in 1Sa 24:8 (cf 1Sa 24:10). David also refers to himself twice as Saul's servant (1Sa 26:19).

For what have I done? Or what evil is in my hand? - His questions are another way for him to say he is innocent and not deserving of Saul's mad manhunt to murder him.

Lord (0113) 'adon is a masculine noun meaning lord or master. The basic meaning of 'ādōn is "lord," "king," "master," "superintendent" or "owner." Examples of 'ādōn in reference to men are Gen. 45:8, 9; Ps. 105:21 ("head" of, or "superintendent" of, a household); 1 Ki. 16:24; Gen. 40:7; Exo. 21:4, 6, 8, 32 ("proprietor," "master"); Neh. 3:5 ("governor"); Gen. 42:10, 30, 33 ("prince"); 1 Ki. 1:27 ("king"). The most frequent usage is of a human lord, but it is also used of divinity. Generally, it carries the nuances of authority rather than ownership. When used of humans, it refers to authority over slaves (Ge. 24:9; Jdg. 19:11); people (1 Ki. 22:17); a wife (Gen. 18:12; Amos 4:1); or a household (Gen. 45:8; Ps. 105:21). When used of divinity, it frequently occurs with yehōwāh, signifying His sovereignty (Ex. 34:23; Josh. 3:13; Isa. 1:24).

Now therefore, please let my lord ('adon; Lxx = kurios) the king listen to the words of his servant ('ebed; Lxx - doulos)- This is the third time David refers to Saul as lord in this dialogue and the second time he calls himself his servant. With great humility and submissiveness, David is seeking Saul's full attention.

If the LORD has stirred you up against me, let Him accept an offering- Literally "let him smell an offering." Robert Chisholm summarizes his analysis of this passage writing "David's warning to Saul suggests that he may have realized, probably from personal experience, that God was inciting Saul to seek his life. Far from exonerating Saul, this divine enticement to evil was a sign of divine disfavor against an underlying sin and necessitated an offering of appeasement."

Robert Vannoy - David knows no reason why God should be angry with him; but if for some reason God is behind Saul's determined effort to kill him, David appeals for God to accept an offering of appeasement (cf. 1Sa 16:5)—in any event, to let the matter be settled between David and God without Saul's involvement. (Borrow NIV Study Bible)

Wiersbe - If David had broken one of God's laws, then he was willing to bring a sacrifice and have his sin forgiven by the Lord. But if Saul was treating David like a criminal because of the lies his officers had told him, then they were the offenders, not David, and they would pay for their sins. Saul and his officers had driven David out of his own land, the very inheritance that the Lord had given his family, and if David moved to other lands, how could he worship Jehovah away from the priesthood and the sanctuary? (Note: In that day, many people believed that the god you worshiped was limited to the territory of the people who worshiped him, and when you moved to another country, you adopted the gods of that country. Those who worshiped Jehovah had to do it in the land of Israel. David certainly didn't believe this lie but exalted Jehovah as the Lord of all the earth. See Psalms 8, 138–139.) (Borrow Be Successful)

NET Note - Heb "may he smell." The implication is that Saul should seek to appease God, for such divine instigation to evil would a sign of God's disfavor. For a fuller discussion of this passage see R. B. Chisholm, Jr., "Does God Deceive?" BSac 155 \(1998\): 19–21.

but if it is men, cursed are they before the LORD- NLT = "But if this is simply a human scheme, then may those involved be cursed by the LORD." David commits any such men to the judgment of God.

Guzik - David knew very well that the LORD or other men had not stirred up Saul but that it came from Saul's own bitterness, carnality, and jealousy.

for they have driven me out today so that I would have no attachment with the inheritance of the LORD, saying, 'Go, serve other gods.' - NLT - "For they have driven me from my home, so I can no longer live among the LORD's people, and they have said, 'Go, worship pagan gods.'" David explains that if it was men who aroused Saul to seek David, why they should be cursed.

Robert Vannoy on the inheritance of the LORD - David appeals to Saul's conscience by describing his present exclusion from the fellowship of God's people and from living at peace in the Lord's land. Go, serve other gods. In their view, to be expelled from the Lord's land was to be separated from the Lord's sanctuary (an OT form of excommunication) and left to serve the gods of whatever land in which one might settle (see Jos 22:24–27 and note on 1 Ki 5:17). Guzik - David revealed his own heart's struggle under the pressure from Saul's relentless persecution. What hurt David the most was that he couldn't go to the house of God and openly be with the people of God, living his life after the LORD as he longed to. The pressure of all this tempted David to consider leaving Israel altogether and to go among those who worshipped other gods. (ED: He had already gone among the Philistines in Gath in 1Sa 21:10 and will go again to Gath in 1Sa 27:2ff.)

DAVID'S WARNING TO SAUL

After David spared Saul's life for the second time, David pleaded his innocence before the king. David was not sure why Saul wanted to kill him, but he suspected an outside influence. He reasoned with the king as follows: "If the Lord has incited you against me, then may he accept an offering. If, however, men have done it, may they be cursed before the Lord" (1Sa 26:19a). From David's perspective one option was that the Lord Himself had "incited" the king to seek his life.²⁴ If this were the case, David assumed an offering (מִנְחָה) should be made to the Lord, and so he prayed that the Lord would find it acceptable.²⁵

David did not indicate who would make this offering. Perhaps he was acknowledging, at least theoretically, that he had done something wrong, in which case Saul was God's instrument of judgment and David himself needed to seek divine favor.²⁶ However, David's protestations of innocence before and after this (1Sa 26:18, 23–24), combined with Saul's confession of sin (1Sa 26:21), militate against this interpretation. David's reference to the possibility of God's instigating Saul's hostility must be interpreted in light of the entire preceding narrative. Because of Saul's blatant rebellion the Lord had decreed the demise of the king and his family (1Sa 15:26–29; cf. 13:13–14). Shortly afterward, the Lord withdrew His personal spirit from Saul and dispatched an evil (or injurious) spirit to replace him (1Sa 16:14–16, 23; 18:10; 19:9).²⁷ David was brought to Saul's court to bring relief to the king when he was tormented by this spirit (1Sa 16:23). On two occasions this spirit incited Saul to attempt to kill David. Of course the Lord was with David (1Sa 18:12) and Saul's attempts failed.

This evil spirit was an instrument of divine judgment on a man whose demise had been unconditionally decreed. This spirit's activity made it apparent to all that Saul was unfit to rule and was the object of divine disfavor. David knew from personal experience that there was a divine force behind Saul's destructive behavior, so it is understandable that he would consider this option when addressing the king's motives. David undoubtedly also realized that this divine force was an instrument of judgment. (After all, he had been anointed to replace Saul as king and had experienced the power of the divine spirit; 1Sa 16:12–13.) When one is the object of divine judgment, it is appropriate to appease the angered deity with an offering, as David advised.

To summarize, David's warning to Saul suggests that he may have realized, probably from personal experience, that God was inciting Saul to seek his life. Far from exonerating Saul, this divine enticement to evil was a sign of divine disfavor against an underlying sin and necessitated an offering of appeasement.

24 The verb translated "incited" is the Hiphil of סוּת. Elsewhere the Hiphil of this verb is used of a daughter "charming" her father into giving her a present (Josh. 15:18 = Jdg. 1:14), of riches enticing a man (Job 36:18), of one individual persuading or inciting another to follow a certain course of action (1 Kings 21:25; 2 Kings 18:32 = Isaiah 36:18; 2 Chron. 18:2; 32:11, 15; Jer. 38:22; 43:3), of a prophet enticing people to worship idols (Deut. 13:6), and of Satan inciting God to test Job (Job 2:3). With God as subject the word is used of His drawing an enemy away from Jehoshaphat (2 Chron 18:31) and of His wooing or attempting to lure people from destruction to blessing (Job 36:16). The word also appears in 2 Samuel 24:1, where God's anger caused Him to entice David to sin, and in the parallel text, 1 Chronicles 21:1, in which an adversary of Israel did the enticing. These texts are discussed later.

25 "May he accept" translates יָבַח (a denominative Hiphil from בָּיַח), which could be rendered more literally, "may he smell with pleasure" (cf. the use of this verb in Gen. 8:21; Ge 27:27). For another example of a מִנְחָה being an offering of appeasement see 1 Samuel 3:14.

Norman Geisler - When Cultists Ask - 1 SAMUEL 26:19—Does this verse say that we should hate our enemies, as the Children of God cult teaches?

MISINTERPRETATION: Moses David, leader of the Children of God cult, appealed to this verse to justify hating his enemies. He wrote: "I'm sorry, I guess I'm not so loving as Jesus—I'm more like King David (1 Sam. 26:19). Jesus could forgive His enemies, but I curse my enemies. But God said David was a man after his own heart, so maybe I'm more like God, 'cause I want to curse them for hurting my little ones!" (David, 1977, GP No. 577, pp. 1, 2).

CORRECTING THE MISINTERPRETATION: Such a conclusion is farfetched and needs little response. Even in this passage David manifested his love for his enemy (Saul) by not killing him when he could have. David did not hate his enemies. Even in the so-called "cursing" Psalms he speaks of loving his enemies and praying for them. He wrote, "In return for my friendship they accuse me, but I am a man of prayer. They repay me evil for good, and hatred for my friendship" (Ps. 109:4–5).

Rather than take revenge on them, David committed his enemies to the justice of God, who renders to each according to his

David, by comparing himself to this insect, seems to import, that while it would cost Saul much pains to catch him, he would obtain but very little advantage from it.

Partridge Not in a Pear Tree

Now then, do not let my blood fall to the ground away from the presence of the LORD - NLT = "Must I die on foreign soil, far from the presence of the LORD?"

For the king of Israel has come out to search for a single flea, just as one hunts a partridge in the mountains- NET = "for the king of Israel has gone out to look for a flea the way one looks for a partridge in the hill country." The picture of David as a flea congers up two thoughts (1) the insignificance and/or contemptible aspect of fleas and (2) the fact that they are difficult to catch. Partridges don't like to fly. They run from one cover to another, like David did.

Vannoy - David suggests that Saul is making a fool of himself in his fanatical pursuit of an innocent man who poses no threat to him. (Borrow NIV Study Bible)

Davis points out, "David also likened Saul's pursuit to a partridge hunt in the mountains. It is appropriate that the illustration used here made reference to the partridge hunt in Palestine. The nature of the hunt paralleled quite accurately the situation of David. The common species of partridge in the Holy Land attempts to save itself by running rather than by flight. The bird is continually chased until it is fatigued. Then it is knocked down with sticks thrown along the ground. This in a very vivid way reflects the nature of Saul's pursuit. Even more interesting is the fact that David compared Saul's actions to a partridge hunt in the mountains, a very unlikely place." (Borrow The Birth of a Kingdom : Studies in I-II Samuel and I Kings 1-11)

Bob Roe has an interesting comment on meaning of a single flea...hunts a partridge - That is an intriguing metaphor. Remember before when David said, "You have come out to look for a dead dog and a single flea." Of course, dead dogs won't bite. A single flea is ridiculous when you are infested with Philistines. So he makes Saul look ridiculous, "You come out here to look for one single flea." (1 Samuel 26 Wilderness of Ziph, David Spares Saul Again)

Adam Clarke offers a slightly different take on partridge writing "It is worthy of remark that the Arabs, observing that partridges, being put up several times, soon become so weary as not to be able to fly; they in this manner hunt them upon the mountains, till at last they can knock them down with their clubs. It was in this manner that Saul hunted David, coming hastily upon him, and putting him up from time to time, in hopes that he should at length, by frequent repetitions of it, be able to destroy him."

Flea - David at the cave of Adullam thus addressed his persecutor Saul (1 Sa 24:14): "After whom is the king of Israel come out? after whom dost thou pursue? after a dead dog, after a flea?" He thus speaks of himself as the poor, contemptible object of the monarch's pursuit, a "worthy object truly for an expedition of the king of Israel with his picked troops!" This insect is in Eastern language the popular emblem of insignificance.

G Campbell Morgan - Behold, I have played the fool.—1 Sam. 26.21

Saul said this in a moment of mental and spiritual illumination. Once again his life had been in the hands of David, and David had refused to slay him. Moreover, he had expostulated with Saul as to the unreasonableness and wickedness of his persistent persecution. Then suddenly the whole truth flamed out upon this man. He saw himself and his actions in the light of actual truth, and under the impulse of the revelation; he told the truth about himself as he said : "I have played the fool." In these words we have a perfect autobiography. In them, the complete life-story of this man is told. Their interpretation is found in the whole narrative, and the explanation of that narrative is contained in them. From the very beginning Saul had failed. To him there had been given the greatest of opportunities; and his way had been made easy for him by all the resources placed at his disposal. There had been given to him the Spirit of God, the friendship of Samuel, and the devotion of men whose hearts God had touched. He had so acted that the Spirit had departed from him: Samuel had been unable to help him; and the hearts of his people had been turned away from him. The whole secret was that he had leaned to his own understanding, had failed to obey, and so had become the evil-tempered man he was, mastered by hatred, and fighting against God. He verily had played the fool. And so every man plays the fool when he forgets that the fear of Jehovah is the beginning of wisdom. The very gifts of God are of no value, when they are not received and held in that holy cleansing fear. (Borrow Life applications from every chapter of the Bible)

F B Meyer - 1 Samuel 26:21 Then said Saul, I have sinned.

The Apostle makes a great distinction, and rightly, between the sorrow of the world and the sorrow of a godly repentance which needeth not to be repented of. Certainly Saul's confession of sin belonged to the former; whilst the cry of the latter comes out in Psalm 51, extorted from David by the crimes of after years.

The difference between the two may be briefly summarized in this, that the one counts sin a folly and regrets its consequences; whilst the other regards sin as a crime done against the most Holy God, and regrets the pain given to Him. "Against Thee, Thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in Thy sight."

Obviously Saul's confession was of the former description, "I have played the fool." He recognized the unkingliness of his behavior, and the futility of his efforts against David. But he stayed there, stopping short of a faithful recognition of his position in the sight of God, as weighed in the balances of eternal justice.

Many a time in Scripture do we meet with this confession. The Prodigal, Judas, Pharaoh, David, and Saul, uttered it; but in what differing tones, and with what differing motives! We need to winnow our words before God; not content with using the expressions of penitence, unless we are very sure that they bear the mint-mark of heaven, and deserve the Master's Beatitude, "Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted.”

When sin is humbly confessed, the Savior assures us: “Thy sins, which are many, are forgiven thee; go in peace.” “If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.”

SAUL IS CONVICTED BY DAVID'S DEFENSE

Then Saul said - Saul makes several proclamations that reflect his worldly sorrow and not his genuine repentance.

Guzik adds that "The last time Saul was in this situation he was overcome with emotion. His feelings seemed right but his life was not changed (1 Samuel 24:16-21). This time there is something cold and mechanical about Saul's words. The words seem right but the feelings aren't there.

I have sinned - This is the third time Saul confesses his sin having twice spoken the same words to Samuel - "I have sinned." (1Sa 15:24,30+) Four men in the Bible said they had sinned. Would you like to know their names? Pharaoh (Ex 9:27), Balaam (Nu 22:34), Achan (Josh 7:20) and Judas (Mt 27:4). With Saul that makes five men who admitted they were sinners but there is no evidence any of them ever sought or received the Savior from sin!!!

God doesn't as much listen to our words,
As He looks at our hearts!

F B Meyer - "The Apostle (see note) makes a great distinction, and rightly, between the sorrow of the world and the sorrow of a godly repentance which needeth not to be repented of. Return, my son David, for I will not harm you again because my life was precious in your sight this day- Heb "my life was valuable in your eyes." Saul pleads for restoration and promises future security. Then in a roundabout way Saul acknowledges David's righteousness.

Alan Redpath, speaking on this speech of Saul's says, "But what a miserable picture Saul is. This man let passion and sin drive him right over the precipice until he seems almost beyond hope. What is the use of saying 'I have played the fool,' if he goes on playing the fool? What use are his tears and confession before David if he doesn't act upon his remorse? We sometimes see people streaming down the aisle in an evangelistic meeting with tear-stained faces. But what difference does emotion make if it does not lead to obedience? What profit is it that a heart has been stirred, unless from that moment the man lives in submission to the will of God. Indeed, it does make a difference, for if a man is emotionally upset as Saul was and awakens to his condition, but only weeps about it and still doesn't obey God, his second state is a thousand times worse than the first. Emotion that does not lead to action only leads deeper into sin and rebellion." (The Making of a Man of God Life of David)

He confesses the magnitude of his error.

Brian Bell - He was a fool in the way he treated Jonathan, David, Samuel, his army, his nation, & his God. He lived like a fool, & he died like a fool. Pr 26:11 says "Like a dog that returns to its vomit Is a fool who repeats his folly." As a dog eats its vomit, so a fool cannot learn from experience. He returns to his habits even though they are disgusting. I have played the fool - There are 2 Saul's in the Bible, 1 in the OT, 1 in the NT. a) These 2 make a striking & instructive contrast: 1 2. 1 was the 1st king of Israel; the other became the apostle Paul. 3. 1 stood head & shoulders above others physically; the other stood head & shoulders above others spiritually. 4. 1 said at the end of his life, "I have played the fool"; the other died saying, "I have fought the good fight...finally there is laid up for me a crown of rt."

Morgan on played the fool - "In these words we have a perfect autobiography. In them the complete life-story of this man is told."

Gulston says, "Significant words, and the last he was ever to address to the person he had an obsession to destroy. Like Nabal, Saul's days were now numbered. Like a king who would later rule in Babylon, 'he was weighed in the balances and found wanting' (Daniel 5:27). His kingdom too, like that of Belshazzar, would be given to another, who would, as he had prophesied, do great things."

Brian Bell - A man plays the fool when...

1. When, he neglects his godly friends (Samuel, David)
2. When, he goes on enterprises for God before God has sent him.
3. When, he disobeys God even in seemingly small matters (Amalekites).
4. When, he tries to cover up his disobedience to God by religious excuses (they kept the animals for sacrifices).
5. When, he tries to persuade himself he is doing God's will when in his heart he knows otherwise.
6. When, he allows some jealousy or hatred to master & enslave & deprave him.
7. When, he knowingly fights against God, as Saul did in hunting David, to save his own face.
8. When, he turns from the God he has grieved, & seeks an alternative in traffic with spirits in the Beyond (ch.28)
9. He truly had, "played the fool!"

The contrast between OT Saul and NT Saul

1. With Saul of the OT there is a progressive downgrade; with Saul of the NT there is a progressive upgrade (for the prize of the upward calling of God in Christ Jesus).
2. With Saul of the OT "self" more & more gets the upper hand; with Saul of the NT there is a progressive displacement of self-ism in favor of monopoly by Christ.
3. Saul of the OT is egocentric; Saul of the NT is Christocentric.
4. Saul of the OT to live was "self"; Saul of the NT to live was "Christ".
5. Saul of the OT to die was "shame & gloom"; Saul of the NT to die was "gain & glory".
6. Saul's heart-rending requiem was, "I have played the fool"; Paul's martyrdom song was, "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown!"
7. Saul of the OT threw his crown away; Saul of the NT, who lived for Christ, gained a crown which will never lose its luster through all the ages! a) I guess the bummer in all this is...how often I look more like Saul of the OT! :(

John MacArthur - PLAYING THE FOOL "Behold, I have played the fool." 1 SAMUEL 26:21

A Christian should not act like a fool.

In Deuteronomy 32:6 Moses looked out at the belligerent children of Israel who had failed God so many times and said, "Do you thus repay the Lord, O foolish and unwise people?" The children of Israel were playing the fool. Sadly, God's people today continue to play the fool.

One way they do so is through disbelief. On the road to Emmaus, Jesus appeared to two disciples who didn't believe that He had risen from the dead. Jesus said to them, "O foolish men and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken!" (Luke 24:25). To disbelieve God and His Word is to play the fool.

Another way believers play the fool is through disobedience. In Galatians 3:1 the apostle Paul says, "You foolish Galatians, who has bewitched you, before whose eyes Jesus Christ was publicly portrayed as crucified?" And in verse 3 he says, "Are you so foolish? Having begun by the Spirit, are you now being perfected by the flesh?" They started out well but were disobedient and got caught up in the works of the law.

Still another way Christians play the fool is through desire for the wrong things. First Timothy 6:9 says, “Those who want to get rich fall into temptation and a snare and many foolish and harmful desires.” If you desire the wrong things, you play the fool.

Finally, you can play the fool through doing the wrong things. James 3:13–17 says that there are two kinds of wisdom. Godly wisdom produces “good behavior” (v. 13), but foolish wisdom produces “jealousy and selfish ambition” (v. 16). A self-centered person plays the fool.

It’s sad to see so many Christians playing the fool. It doesn’t make any sense. Why should Christians live as blind, ignorant, foolish people when they have the wisdom of God?

Paul says at the end of Romans, “I want you to be wise in what is good, and innocent in what is evil” (16:19). If you have to be a fool at all, be a fool (unknowing, unacquainted) about evil.

PLAYING THE FOOL - E F Hallock

TEXT: “Then said Saul, ... ‘I have played the fool, and have erred exceedingly’ ” (1 Sam. 26:21c ASV).

INTRODUCTION: Someone has said, “There’s no fool like an old fool.” King Saul was nearing seventy years of age when he spoke these words to David. Forty years before, Samuel had anointed Saul Israel’s first king. He was a physical giant, a real leader of men, a man with great potential for outstanding success.

I. How King Saul played the fool.

- A. He failed to await God’s appointed time (1 Sam. 13:8–15). Samuel said, “Thou hast done foolishly” (v. 13 ASV).
- B. He disobeyed the Lord’s command to destroy Amalek (1 Sam. 15:1–22). He substituted sacrifice for obedience.
- C. He became exceedingly jealous. He made enemies of both Samuel and David.
- D. He sought counsel from a witch (1 Sam. 28:3–20). He refused to go to the Lord in repentance.
- E. He committed suicide in battle (1 Chron. 10:13, 14).

II. How we play the fool.

- A. We say, “There is no God” (ASV). The atheist is a fool (Ps. 14:1 ASV).
- B. We “make a mock at sin” (Prov. 14:9 KJV). One who considers sin lightly—as the natural fruit of evolution, etc.—is a fool.
- C. We trust in our own minds. When we do, we are fools (Prov. 28:26).
- D. We commit adultery. When we do, we have “no sense” (Prov. 6:32).
- E. We substitute excuses for faith in Christ.
- F. We Christians do not “walk with the Lord in the light of His Word.” When we trust in our “own mind” or other men—“broken staffs”—we are fools.

CONCLUSION: The wise man is he who receives the Lord Jesus Christ into his heart and acquaints himself with the Lord by reading and doing His Word.

Played the fool (foolishly)(05528)(sakal means to be a fool, to act foolishly. Having or showing a lack of good sense, judgment, or discretion. It means acting in an indefensible manner, without reason, in foolish haste (Ge 31:28); especially in disobeying God's instructions (1Sa 13:13; 1Ch 21:8; 2Ch 16:9). Uses an idiom, Saul would later say "Behold, I have played the fool and have committed a serious error." (1Sa 26:21).

Sakal - 8v - acted foolishly(2), acted...foolishly(1), done*(1), done...foolishly(1), foolishly(1), foolishness(2), make(1), played the fool(1). Gen. 31:28; 1 Sam. 13:13; 1 Sam. 26:21; 2 Sam. 15:31; 2 Sam. 24:10; 1 Chr. 21:8; 2 Chr. 16:9; Isa. 44:25

Committed...error (gone astray, erred)(07686) shagah means to to go (lead) astray (Ezek 34:6), to err, to mislead (Dt 27:18, Pr 28:10), to be deceived (hold a mistaken belief (Pr 5:23; 20:1), to wander, to make a mistake. The primary emphasis in the root shagah is on sin done inadvertently (but that was not the case with Saul - his sin was conscious, volitionalThe Scripture pinpoints at least three causes for such wandering. The first is wine and strong drink (Isa 28:7; Pr 20:1). The second is the seductive strange woman (Pr 5:20, 23) versus the love of one’s wife, which ought to “captivate” one (Pr 5:19). The third is the inability to reject evil instruction (Pr 19:27). Only Saul in the OT admits culpability at this point (1Sa 26:21).

DAVID IS CAUTIOUS AFTER SAUL'S SOFT WORDS!

David's response to Saul's confession is terse and to the point (pun intended)!

David replied, "Behold (hinneh; Lxx = idou) the spear of the king! Now let one of the young men come over and take it- David was in no hurry to take Saul at his word and personally hustle over to return the spear. Note that David apparently retained the water jug!

LEAVE THE PAYDAY TO THE LORD

The LORD will repay each man for his righteousness and his faithfulness - Some versions like CSB see this as a wish "May the LORD repay every man for his righteousness and his loyalty." Others a statement of fact or truth about God as in NET version "The LORD rewards each man for his integrity and loyalty."

Behold, I am coming quickly, and My reward is with Me, to render to every man according to what he has done.

for the LORD delivered you into my hand today but I refused to stretch out my hand against the LORD'S anointed (mashiach; Lxx = Christos) - Guzik explains "David trusted in God who blesses the righteous and the faithful. David knew the truth of Hebrews 6:10 before it was written: For God is not unjust to forget your work and labor of love which you have shown toward His name. i. David understood the principle Jesus spoke of in Matthew 7:2: With the measure you use, it will be measured back to you David wanted the large measure of God's mercy for himself, so David gave Saul the large measure of mercy. That generous measure of mercy will be a great blessing to David later in his life."

God's Payday

After serving for 40 years on the African mission field, Henry C. Morrison returned home by boat. On that same boat, returning from one of his big-game hunts in Africa, was Theodore Roosevelt. Upon docking in New York, President Roosevelt received a great fanfare. Bands were playing, crowds were excitedly trying to get a glimpse of the famous president, and reporters were there to take down his every word. No one, however, was there to meet Henry Morrison and his wife. As he left the docks, he felt quite dejected. After all, Morrison thought, I should get some recognition for forty years in the Lord's service. It was then that his wife reminded him, "But Henry, you're not home yet."

David knew that God someday will repay every man for his righteousness and his faithfulness. This realization prevented David from slaying Saul when he had the chance. He could have taken advantage of Saul's helplessness, but instead he did what was right. David chose the way of righteousness and faithfulness.

You can be sure that God is no man's debtor. When we walk in righteousness and faithfulness, we can be sure that God will repay. It may happen on earth, but most certainly our greatest rewards will be when we get to heaven. If we seek to do what is right in God's sight and to serve Him faithfully wherever He calls us, we can safely leave the rewards to Him. God will never disappoint us.

If you are discouraged by a lack of recognition or appreciation, remember that God will repay your righteousness and faithfulness. Even if He waits until you get to heaven, you can be confident that someday will be payday. Remember, you aren't home yet! DAVID MAKES HIS FINAL APPEAL TO THE LORD

Now behold (hinneh; Lxx = idou), as your life was highly valued in my sight this day so may my life be highly valued in the sight of the LORD - Heb "your life was great this day in my eyes." GWN - "As I placed great value on your life today, may the LORD place great value on my life" David desires that his life be valued much in the eyes of the LORD.

And may He deliver me from all distress - David entrusts his life and his fate to the LORD. Notice David is not saying "Lord my life be distress free!" He knows distress will come as that is one of the primary courses in God's classroom to make us more like His Son.

Gene Getz - With these concluding words, David was saying he would never take Saul's life. However, he also was saying that the only one who could ultimately protect his life from Saul was the Lord. Never again would he trust the king. PRINCIPLE - When we've forgiven others and do not retaliate, it does not necessarily mean we can have a trusting relationship.

Distress (trouble, anguish, affliction) (06869) tsarah from tsar = literally a narrow, confining space, figuratively dire straits from which escape is difficult) is a noun which depicts tightness (figuratively trouble) and implies great strain or stress psychologically and spiritually (as in Ge 42:21). The root word deals with harassment and torment engendered by an enemy and thus speaks of adversity, affliction, tribulation, trouble. Tsarah is used to describe the cursing to Israel for disobedience (Dt 31:17, 21 = troubles). See also study on related verb tsarar. One of most famous uses is the "time of Jacob's distress" (Je30:7KJV = the time of Jacob's trouble; Lxx = thlipsis). Both Jeremiah and Daniel are alluding to the last 3.5 yrs of Daniel's 70th week which will be for Israel (and the world) a "time of distress (trouble; Lxx = thlipsis)"

The Lxx translates tsarah with thlipsis which literally means a pressing together and figuratively speaks of suffering brought on by outside circumstances. Thlipsis is a strong term which does not refer to minor inconveniences, but to real hardships. Medically thlipsis was used of the pulse (pressure). Thlipsis described the pressing together of grapes. It conveyed the idea of being squeezed or placed under pressure or crushed beneath a weight. When, according to the ancient law of England, those who willfully refused to plead guilty, had heavy weights placed on their breasts, and were pressed and crushed to death, this was literally thlipsis. Thlipsis thus refers not to mild discomfort but to great difficulty. That is the "fruit" these men will reap for rejecting God's gracious gesture of stretching out His hand (Pr 1:24).

SAUL'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT THAT DAVID WOULD PREVAIL

Then Saul said to David, "Blessed are you, my son David; you will both accomplish much and surely prevail- Saul knowingly or unknowingly prophesies that David would succeed, the implication being he would be the next king and would be a good king unlike Saul.

So David went on his way, and Saul returned to his place - David was not about to take Saul up on his offer for David to return. He has seen Saul change like the wind and so he will part from Saul.

Sin separates and Saul's sins separated him from everything that is good and worthwhile, (1) from God Himself (1Sa 15:26+, 1Sa 16:14+), (2) from the man of God, God's prophet Samuel (1Sa 15:37+) and (3) from the man after God's own heart, David, for this would be the last time Saul would ever see David!

Matthew Poole rightly says "Knowing Saul's unstable and deceitful heart, he would not trust to any of his professions or promises, but kept out of his reach."

Don Anderson - This was the last time that David and Saul would speak to one another on earth. David hid from Saul for four more years, then Saul died in battle. (ED: NOT SURE WHERE HE GETS "FOUR MORE YEARS.")

Theodore Epp points out, "It was following this that David and Saul exchanged words for the last time on earth. Saul said to David, 'Blessed be thou, my son David. Thou shalt both do great things and also shall still prevail.' So David went in his way and Saul returned to his place. In another passage we are told that 'Saul sought him no more;' yet David hid from Saul for four more years, not being sure when the king might seek his life again. At the end of that time, Saul died in battle.”
